Greetings from Platinum Dental Inc.,

HOLIDAY SEASON

Wow! The year is just about done. Where did the time go? This is the time where you reflect on what happened throughout the year. Did you accomplish your New year's resolution? Well now is the time to start some new resolutions. Maybe you want to start saving up some money for emergencies. Whatever your resolution may be, we hope you prosper in every aspect of it.

On behalf of Dr. Eslampour and staff we wish you Happy Holidays and a prosperous New Year.

All Porcelain Crowns

For those of you who have had the joy of extensive dental work, you are familiar with what a crown looks like. They are essentially caps that are placed over your teeth and are a sort of "last resort" for a tooth that has too much damage for a normal filling to fix. In your father's day, technology was such that these special tooth caps had to be made of metal with a simple porcelain overlay to mimic the look of a normal and real tooth. But the metal underneath caused the crown's look to worsen considerably over time.

Some of you may have this type of crown or have seen it in others. The aging of the crown can be seen even just while talking as metal is exposed at the gum line or in the way the color or stain of your crowned tooth just doesn't match the rest.

But the dark ages are over and no one needs to know which of your teeth have crowns just by casting a glance. New technology is now available. Cosmetic dentistry can now offer you all porcelain or all acrylic crowns. These crowns do a much better job of being inconspicuous among the rest of your teeth and give off a much more natural look.

If you are interested in replacing your old crowns or are in need of crowns for the first time, speak with us to find out if all-porcelain crowns can be a good fit.
